CURRENT MARKET DIRECTION: UPTREND LAST WEEK'S MARKET

Friday was tough on many Nasdaq stocks. In some cases, taking back the whole week's gains.

LAST WEEK'S MARKET ACTION

7/27/2018	Weekly Index % Change	Weekly Volume % Change	Volume Above/ Below 10-week Avg	Type of Week
Nasdaq	-1.1%	+11.2%	+4.0%	Major Distribution
S&P 500	+0.6%	S&P 500 Volume		Minor accumulation
NYSE	+1.0%	+10.1%	+4.0%	Major Accumulation
DJIA	+1.6%			Major Accumulation

The "TYPES OF WEEK" are:

ACCUMULATION WEEK PRICE RISES 0.2% or more and VOLUME RISES

DISTRIBUTION WEEK PRICE FALLS 0.2% or more and VOLUME RISES

Another type of DISTRIBUTION(*): WEEK PRICE FALLS 0.2% or more & VOLUME is 15% or more above average even without an increase in volume.

The NYSE volume is used for the S&P500, DJIA and NYSE Composite.

If you are a subscriber to the Investor's Business Daily newspaper (I can't invest sanely without it), go to the "Stocks on the Move" lists on the home page. Compare the price and volume changes of the 20 highest volume change stocks on the "Up in Price" list versus the "Down in Volume" list (a list of stocks with volume at highest percent above average.)

- Friday's top 5 rising stocks had:
 - Price changes of +9.5% to +11.4% and
 - Volume at 315% to 516% above average (which is extraordinary)

- Friday's top 5 falling stocks had:
 - Price changes of -5.7% to -25.5%
 - Volume at 348% to 952% above average (which is scary!).

The price-volume action on some of the stocks on Friday's list seemed crazy!

- Magellan Health (MGLN) was down 21% with volume 390%.above average
- DMC Global (BOOM) was down 21% with volume 524% above average.
- Logmein (LOM) was down 25% with volume 952% above average.

I believe the market is telling us that there are profits to take; that some stocks have gotten "too high."

If you own individual stocks, be sure you know each stock's earnings report date. Decide if you are willing to hold through the unknown reaction to a possible earnings surprise. If not consider reducing your investment (selling some of all of the stocks), or protect your portfolio with another plan such as judicious use of options.

No one ever went broke takin profits off the table!

Please read Friday's Big Picture written by my favorite IBD author, Paul Whitfield, Stocks Learn An Old Lesson After Five-Minute Rally

Paul explains why the market fell off an exciting initial high:

"The stock market fell because there were more sellers with money than buyers with money."

Paul continues with a reminder to draw your chart indicators (moving averages, etc.) with a crayon not a pen. In most cases, chart lines are meant to point to general strengths/weaknesses, support and resistance not precise action points. A pen's line is just too precise and may lead to false confidence.

I'll add one more observation: There have been several days when a major stock or index gaps at the opens and spends the rest of the day retreating. I still smell market manipulation! And you might be the victim! But don't cry. There's nothing you can do about it except to protect your portfolio from a surprise.

INVESTOR NEWS from Investor's Business Daily:

"Vanguard Group has once again upped its game in the ongoing war on fees.

"The fund giant recently announced it will offer commission free nearly 1,800 ETFs on its brokerage platform, including those from rival firms BlackRockBLK, SchwabSCHW and State StreetSTT. What this means for investors is they will not be paying any trading commissions on nearly the whole ETF universe of about 2,000 funds. The only exceptions are inverse and levered ETFs, which require more hands-on expertise and can be used for speculative purposes."

If you aren't a Vanguard client, call you broker and ask when they will match Vanguard's ETF pricing.

AMAZON: This uptrending market has been strong and earning announcement season is just beginning. Investors.com and I are optimistic about the impact of Amazon's earnings announced after Thursday's close:

- Earnings were over twice expectations ($5.07 vs $2.50).

EARNINGS SEASON can be dangerous for investors. Earnings will start to be reported in significant numbers this week. Beware that stock prices can react to the initial earnings reports (either up or down) and then, with additional research into the numbers behind the reported numbers, can suddenly adjust up or down.

Consider:

- If your stock is showing weakness before its earnings report day, you may want to take some profits and lessen your exposure.
- Beware; the step above can disappoint you if the stock takes off on better-than-expected earnings.
- I would rather be safe than sorry.

There is not one red or orange indicator on Thursday's MARKET FACTORS, COUNTS & RATINGS table (in the FULL newsletter). Most indicators are green indicating the factors are showing Uptrend strength.

- The Nasdaq 20-day distribution day count is just 2 days!
- The Nasdaq, S&P500 and DJIA are above their 50-day and 200-day moving averages.

Open the FULL Armchair Investor newsletter to see Nasdaq and S&P500 daily and weekly charts, annotated with my trend lines to help you understand how to draw those critically important lines and what they show about market direction.

Follow the Armchair Investor Trend-following Strategy instructions below.

- When the Market direction moves into UPTREND:
 - Buy an UPTREND ETF (and sell any DOWNTREND ETF you own)
- When the Market direction moves into DOWNTREND:
 - Buy a DOWNTREND ETF (and sell any UPTREND ETF you own)
- Repeat!!

Are You a Trend Trader? Hold your trend-following ETF (such as QQQ, QLD, TQQQ) You have just recovered 72% of the recent drop!

Remember: It is hard for the big money (funds, banks and money managers) to hide their actions. But if you follow this newsletter, you will also learn to interpret their stealth moves and take appropriate action like holding during the recent 3-week dip so you immediately capture the recovery gains as we did last week.

Do you invest in Individual Stocks? Always consider taking some profit if significant distribution is showing up for your individual stocks. However, many individual stocks are rising with gusto! Look at all the lists in the Investor's Business Daily newspaper for stocks breaking out with high volume. They are there!

Uptrend ETFs that follow the Nasdaq are QQQ, QLD and TQQQ

Not all market turns result in a profit. But overall, historically, they have beaten the market by multiples.

To get a sense of the health of the market, look at the MARKET FACTORS, COUNTS & RATINGS table included each day in the FULL Armchair Investor newsletter. It looks at 7 key market direction factors and highlights the leaning of each:

- If the factor leans toward the Uptrend, that box will be green
- If the factor leans toward the Downtrend, that box will be orange or red

MARKET IN UPTREND

Some individual stocks have caught the Uptrend fever. They have price AND volume. I am buying full positions of a very few top stocks with strong breakouts.

REMEMBER:
THE MARKET CONTINUES IN THE DIRECTION IT'S GOING UNTIL IT DOESN'T.

THE ARMCHAIR INVESTOR strategy is SIMPLE and FAST to execute:

- Be in the market when it is going up.
- Be out or (or short) the market when it is going down.
- Protect yourself with an 8% stop.

Distribution days drop off the 20-day count for 2 reasons. The Index or stock:

- (1) TIMES OUT: the distribution day is 21 days old or older
- (2) CLIMBS OUT: The index rises 5% or more above the close of the distribution day

FRIDAY

Amazon was the big loser on Friday even though it closed UP 0.5% on strong earnings reports and a dozen analysts raised their price targets substantially. I use “loser” because Amazon opened UP 3.5% after earnings and gave almost all of it back by 1:00 p.m. (NYC).

Some quotes to guide you:

Why the Facebook, Netflix Stock Collapse Could Signal A Big Market Change By MICHAEL LARKIN IBD 7/28/2018

Some of the best performing stocks of recent times have been breaking down, a hint that the market may be gearing up for a rotation. Facebook (FB), Netflix (NFLX), Twitter (TWTR) and Intel (INTC) have all flashed signs their bullish outperformance may be over. There are fears that their disappointing results could mean the huge revenue and profit growth of recent times may not be sustainable.

Armchair Investor thoughts: Facebook’s 19% drop after its earnings only slightly missed market expectations. Price dropped below its 50-day and 200-day moving averages. Ouch! Remember: a stock’s price is larger based on expectation of future growth in earnings (not past performance).

PRIOR NOTES ON THURSDAY’S EARNING:

Facebook took a beating after reporting disappointing earnings and a loss in users.

WHAT HAPPENED?

- FB missed revenues by less than 0.1%.
- Earnings exceeded estimates by 0.1%.

How can such small misses cause a 20% drop in price? Expectations about the future. The regulatory environment (especially in Europe) has tightened, probably permanently. How will those restrictions affect FB and many other companies? Those FB guys are pretty savvy. But 42% price gains are rarely sustainable, (Do the math – Since price target projections are partially based on earnings growth expectations, FB would soon have to start recruiting users on Mars.)

Lesson #1: Beware of irrational exuberance We should have known FB's price gains were unsustainable: FB's price grew 46% in the last 17 weeks. Why was the term “irrational exuberance” and “unsustainable” not thrown around in recent discussion of FB? No one likes a party pooper!

When a stock plummets, everyone chimes in with opinions about why and how we “should have known.” But when its price is rising, we just like to think, “How smart I am!”

Facebook is an extraordinary company that could have avoided this one big day loss by being honest with its investors and given guidance on the losses in revenues and users. But that is new territory for Zuckerberg. And the market slapped him around for not being forthright.

Who do you think bought back your shares yesterday at a 19% discount? (Hint: Large brokers and money managers love a discount).

Remember Lesson #2: Avoid Over-Diversification – Even though excessive diversification would have helped you on Thursday, it hurts your returns most of the time.

I usually own a max of 5 stocks (occasionally up to 7). Do these low numbers represent “conservative” diversification? Many brokers want you do have 20 or more stocks in your portfolio. The high number protects them. If one stock dropped 19% as FB did Thursday, your 20 stock portfolios would have lost only 0.5% from that one stock.

And the reverse happens when you have a big winner – the winnings are watered down as well. I find 5 diversified stocks a good middle ground – I still get nice impact from gains while protection from too much exposure to losses in one stock (and using well-placed stops.)

In William O'Neil's work, he says, 'If you could buy the best seven stocks, why would you want to water down your returns by buying the next 10 or 20?'

Conclusion: Over-diversification (more than 7 stocks) tends to:

- Reduce your returns and

- Takes more time to manage.

Are you curious how FB grew so fast? Click here to see a list of 65 companies that FB has acquired since its launch in 2004.

AMAZON: This uptrending market has been strong and earning announcement season is just beginning. Investors.com and I are optimistic about the impact of Amazon's earnings announced after Thursday's close:

- Thursday night's earnings report was over twice expectations ($5.07 vs $2.50).

If you looked at Canadian medical marijuana producer Tilray \(TLRY\) before its IPO last Thursday, you probably wondered if its opening day would go UP IN SMOKE?

- Original IPO target price was $17
- Opening day went as high as $24.00, as low as 20.10 (a 16% swing!)
- Then closed at $22.39.

With news of the first medical marijuana pure play, trading caught on:

- TLRY rose 33% the next day (Monday)!
- Price lost only 1% on Tuesday
- Then fell 14% Tuesday
- TLRY closed the week at $24.30, very close to the high of the opening day.

THIS WILD PRICE ROLLERCOASTER IS THE VOLATILITY OF A HYPED IPO WITHOUT EARNINGS TO HOLD IT'S PRICE UP.

- Conclusion: New trendy stocks can be fun to brag about, but are usually only predictable in their high volatility. I wait for positive earnings!

Here is an article by Forbes magazine that values TLRY at \$1.4billion.

I won't buy a serious position until I see some more financial history. But right now it is the only "pure medical marijuana play" and I am inclined to dabble (in the stock not the product!)

You can find many high performing stocks by reviewing the IBD 50 stocks shown in the weekend Investor's Business Daily newspaper and on the investors.com web site. I am a visual analyst and prefer using the newspaper. It has more complete, key data with charts for each of the 50 stocks than my broker.

One source of stocks that are showing strong upward moves is the Weekly Winners and Losers list of the ten IBD 50 stocks with biggest weekly upward price movement. This list does show the ten IBD50 stocks with the biggest losses but I am not interested in those stocks until the market goes into a Downtrend.

Will the market continue to new highs? My guess, "YES!"

REMEMBER: THE MARKET CONTINUES IN THE DIRECTION IT IS GOING, UNTIL IT DOESN'T.

MARKET IN UPTREND

Every day at www.investors.com, Investor's Business Daily has great ideas (for subscribers). Besides the IBD50 list, I always look at the:

IBD STOCK OF THE DAY – Read the full IBD "Stock of the Day" articles (through your IBD subscription)

Note: Friday, 7/13 ended our following of the IBD "Stocks of the Week."

I have a new investing mantra I hope you'll use as a reminder of how to manage your portfolio:

Buy the BEST
Watch the NEST
Visit the REST

- Buy the BEST – self-explanatory: Do not compromise your stock picking or your signal to buy.
- Watch the NEST – Once I own a stock, my relationship to it completely changes. It's "my" stock now. Take care of your chicks. Feed them as they grow (even add more). But if you discover your cute cuddly chick is weak or fighting you, it may be time to pass them on to a new caretaker.
- Visit the REST – What about all those other stocks you identified as "almost" ready buy? A secret I don't talk about: I have two watch lists. One I look at daily with stocks very near buy points or waiting for EPS announcement. And a second weekly list of stocks that are getting close to a buy signal.

If you take a MarketSmith trial, please mention the Dallas and Fort Worth Meetup leader (Charlotte Hudgin) as your source. This helps us get occasional guest speakers from IBD and access to MarketSmith! Thank you.

I AM BUYING INDIVIDUAL STOCKS which are breaking out of good bases with high volume on the breakout day. Volume is the factor which is hard to find right now but I can wait! With the current weakness in the market, I am buying smaller first bites. If you are having trouble finding enough good stocks to buy, consider adding the QQQ or another Uptrend-Index ETF. This is one place I put some of my money when I can't find the right stock at a buy point.

The market diagnosis is UPTREND

REMEMBER:

YOU ARE NOT SMARTER THAN THE MARKET

THE MARKET AND STOCKS CONTINUE IN THE DIRECTION THEY ARE GOING..... UNTIL THEY DON'T.

PROTECT YOUR PORTFOLIO WITH AN 8% STOP

CHOOSE YOUR STOP & LIVE BY IT – NO EXCUSES!

And you don't have to wait for your stock to fall to the stop. A concentration of distribution days is always a reason for me to get out wherever it happens!

What to do now:

- WATCH YOUR INVESTMENTS CLOSELY: Add positions in top stocks at buy or add-on points. Sell stalling and falling stocks quickly. Do a quick review of each stock you own every night. Look for strength and weakness signals in the price-volume action, especially watching for distribution (signs of institutional selling)
- DON'T LOSE YOUR GAINS: Sell any stock that is showing a concentration of distribution days. I sell more quickly in a Downtrend

Healthy Downtrend Price-Volume- Movement	Strong Action	Down	↓	↑	Up
	Weaker Action	Up	↑	↓	Down

The chart below identifies the market direction indicated by the Nasdaq's price and volume action for the last 20 days at two levels of significance.

ACCUMULATION/DISTRIBUTION COLUMN - TELLS YOU WHERE THE BIG MONEY IS GOING

The listing includes: the date, Nasdaq closing price and percent change of the Nasdaq price and volume.

- The next column identifies days that were Major Accumulation (serious UPTREND indicator) or Major Distribution (serious Downtrend indicator) using the 1% minimum rise or fall with higher volume.
- Minor accumulation and minor distribution days are also identified – days that moved 0.2% or more but less than 1%.

“CONSISTENT WITH”– THE SUBTLE, BUT TELLING MOVES

The last column is an UPTREND /Downtrend indicator.

Think of a healthy Uptrend. It will have many days where the index rises with increased volume.

But even in the most robust Uptrend, * not every day will be up. In any Uptrend, there will be some down days. If they have higher volume, then the day becomes a distribution day but if the volume is lighter (as frequently happens in an Uptrend), then the down day is NOT a distribution day. In fact, a drop on lighter 4747.62 volume says they market is NOT selling off heavily – good news and consistent with the Uptrend.

Using the Healthy UPTREND/Downtrend price and volume movement listed above.

- For example, if the Nasdaq closing price rose 0.7% and the volume rose 2% (up and up), that movement is “consistent with” the price-volume action of a Healthy UPTREND.
- If the price drops 0.5% and the volume rises 1.2% (down and up), that movement is “consistent with” the price-volume action of a Healthy Downtrend as indicated in the table above.
- Any index change less than + or – 0.2% or volume change less than + or – 1% has no “consistent with” notation. Price and volume movements that small is not strong enough to tell us about the market movement.

EXAMPLE OF ACCUMULATION AND DISTRIBUTION WITH EXPANDED EXPLANATION OF TERMS:

Today's Market Action with explanation
2/5/16	Index Close	Index % Change	Volume % Change	Volume vs 50-day Avg	Accumulation or Distribution Day?	Current Trend: DOWNTREND Began 1/4/2015
Index	4363.14	-3.2%	+13.8%	+21.8%	Major Distribution	+11.3%
S&P500	1879.92	-1.9%	NYSE Volume		Neither	+6.6%
NYSE	9,390.33	-1.5%	-5.3%	+15.0%	Neither	+6.2%
DJIA	16,204.62	-1.3%			Neither	+5.5%

A Major Accumulation Day: Price RISES 1.0% or more and higher Volume than the day before
A Minor accumulation Day: Price RISES 0.2% or more and Volume is strong (either higher volume or is well-above average volume)

A Major Distribution Day: Price FALLS 1.0% or more and higher Volume than the day before.
A Minor distribution Day: Price FALLS 0.2% or more, Volume is strong (either higher volume or is well-above average volume)

A Stalling minor distribution Day: Only in an up-trending index or stock, price is FLAT or DOWN slightly compared to the day before, closing in the bottom half of the day's range and volume is heavier or about equal to the day before or strong compared to the past market. It's the price closing low in the day's range after an uptrend that is the key for this designation. Price close to flat and higher or consistent volume indicates the big money (institutions: mutual funds, banks, etc.) are gently selling, trying to sneak out so you won't notice.

 The "CURRENT TREND" column calculates how far each index has moved in the current trend assuming you purchased the index (which is not buyable) at the opening price on the day after the trend change signal.

- When this column is GREEN, the index has moved in the direction of the market trend.
- HOWEVER, when this column is RED, the index change has fallen into negative territory (which could be a rise during a Downtrend)

An ACCUMULATION day points at heavy buying by institutional money managers - the mutual funds, pension funds, banks, etc.
A DISTRIBUTION day points at heavy selling by institutional money managers.
