

ARMCHAIR INVESTOR TREND-FOLLOWING STRATEGY***

(*For that part of your portfolio which is invested in a market-tracking ETF like the QQQ.)

MONDAY: Small gains with much lower volume (after Friday's options and futures expiration day). And this is the start of the week before the holidays. Most of the funds have probably completed their end of year adjustments to their portfolios. The lighter volume is understandable. Sadly, the Trump jump may also be over – at least until the new year. It is certainly possible that the rise could continue into next year – the economy is doing better and banks continue to expect increased returns from last week's increase in interest rates (and next year's planned increases by the Fed).

On Monday:

- The Nasdaq was Up 0.4% with lighter volume.
- The S&P500 was Up 0.2% with lighter volume

The Nasdaq distribution count is worrisome 6 distribution days. (IBD says 7 – see Thursday's note).

The S&P500 distribution count is 3 distribution days, still nothing to get scared about. Attention is still focused on the Nasdaq's higher count.

TODAY'S MARKET ACTION

| 12/19/16 | Index Close | Index % Change | Volume % Change | Volume vs 50-day Avg | Accumulation or Distribution Day? | Current Trend: UPTREND Began 6/30/2016 |
|----------|-------------|----------------|-----------------|----------------------|-----------------------------------|--|

An ACCUMULATION day points at heavy buying by institutional money managers - the mutual funds, pension funds, banks, etc.

A DISTRIBUTION day points at heavy selling by institutional money managers.

See additional notes on accumulation and distribution at the end of the FULL newsletter

A Major ACCUMULATION Day: Price RISES 1.0% or more with higher Volume than the day before

A Minor accumulation Day: Price RISES 0.2% but less than 1% and Volume is strong (either higher than the day before or is well-above average volume)

A Major DISTRIBUTION Day: Price FALLS 1.0% or more and higher Volume than the day before.

A Minor distribution Day: Price FALLS 0.2% but less than 1% and Volume is strong (either higher than the day before or is well-above average volume)

Distribution indicates institutions are selling their stock. The standard mathematical requirements for distribution days are shown above.

And there are additional types of distribution days that show substantial selling such as happened on Monday June 27, 2016, when the market fell 2.4%, closed near the bottom of the day's price range but had lighter volume. The volume was still a strong 31% above average. In total, the day was heavy selling and labeled distribution (6/27/2016 was the second day of the market's heavy selling response to England's vote to leave the European Union.)

CURRENT TREND: There are two trends (UPTREND and DOWNTREND). But because most tops are rounded and happen over a couple of weeks or more, we find it useful to modify the Uptrend into "Uptrend under PRESSURE" when the distribution count gets uncomfortably high.

MARKET ACTION 2016 YEAR-TO-DATE

| 12/19/16  | 2015 Closing Price | Current Price | Index % Change Year-to-Date |
|-----------|--------------------|---------------|-----------------------------|
| Nasdaq    | 5007.41            | 5457.44       | +9.0%                       |
| S&P 500   | 2043.94            | 2262.58       | +10.7%                      |
| NYSE Comp | 10143.42           | 11128.55      | +9.7%                       |
| DJIA      | 17423.03           | 19884.36      | +14.1%                      |

This yearly table is included for your reference. These returns have little relevance to trend-following returns since trend-followers do not hold during "Downtrends" and may lighten their holdings during "Uptrends under Pressure." "Buy and Hold" is never recommended by the Armchair Investor.

HOW CLOSE ARE THE INDICES TO ALL-TIME HIGHS?

Below are the highs as of 12/05/2016. I will use these highs until the market has risen above those by at least 5%.

Both indexes are significantly below their all-time highs. Both indexes tumbled down a steep slope, closing lower 9 days in a row, then recovered nicely over the last 2 days.

Those highs now appear to be the prices to beat. The “How Close are the Indexes to All-Time Highs?” table (prior page) has been updated to refer to these all-time highs including new highs this year for the Nasdaq, S&P500 and DJIA. The NYSE is still below its 2015 high.

The above charts are from StockCharts.com, a valuable site for investors with many free tools. On the daily charts: The price 50-day and 200-day moving averages are shown. If you don't see the 200-day price moving average, it is too low (or high) to show. But stay tuned – it will appear on these charts when the market direction changes. Also, the volume 50-day moving average is shown.

On the weekly charts: The price 10-week & 40-week moving averages and the 10-week volume moving average is shown.

MARKET DIRECTION ADDITIONAL COMMENTS

More detailed comments on market direction and technical analysis for individual stocks

MONDAY : The small moves on Monday did little to disrupt the direction of most of the current movers. It would not be unusual for the stocks to not do much movement between now and the end of the year.

Ross Stores, ROST. Is still stuck in the 5% buy zone from the breakout a month ago. I'm certainly not going to buy the stock and wait for next EPS announcement about March 1.

Composite 94 (strong for an apparel store), EPS 90, and Acc/Dist B. Its RS dropped 2 points to 73, but the trade-off is the exceptionally consistent earnings growth stability of 3. A 3 stability says earnings growth is very consistent – something fund managers like.

I hope you are enjoying the rising price of Navida NVDA. NVDA continued outperforming the market on Monday with a 1.4% rise. Sweet! Composite 99, RS 99, EPS 96, and Acc/Dist rose to an A. NVDA is not in a buy zone. I don't usually look at monthly charts expect when I want to identify prior resistance. If you look at a monthly chart of NVDA, you will notice that it has risen for 15 of the last 17 months. Wow! If you buy NVDA or own it, please watch for the possibility of a climax top forming which is frequently followed by a disastrous correction (drop).

The third stock, Masimo, MASI, a medical equipment manufacturer, is new to me. MASI was flat Monday and has a composite of 90, a B+ Accumulation/Distribution rating, 86 EPS and 89 RS – pretty good ratings, but not spectacular.

NEW INDUSTRY GROUP LEADERS:

This week in the Fort Worth IBD Meetup and in the weekly Armchair Investor classes, we looked at the shift in the 197 IBD Industry Groups over the last 6 weeks. (This list is shown daily in the Investor's Business Daily Market Page, link at the bottom of the daily Big Picture).

Many of the industry groups in the top 40 have skyrocketed up the list over the last 6 weeks – look at banking/finance/insurance groups, Steel/Mining, and of the 197 industry groups, the biggest gainer, Household/Office Furniture, rose from 179 to 34.

I liked what David Saito-Chung said in Investors.com's Big Picture Tuesday night:

Back to the tech sector, IBM is joining the likes of Apple (AAPL), Intel (INTC), Qualcomm (QCOM) and other big-cap techs that are either approaching valid buy points in long bottoming base patterns or are still in buy range after recently breaking out. Late on Tuesday, IBM announced a plan to add as many as 25,000 U.S. jobs in the next four years.

Such news reaffirms the recent positive data on U.S. employment, consumer sentiment and activity in both the manufacturing and service sectors.

Apple, posting its fifth gain in six sessions and finishing the day up 1.7% at 115.19, is now within just several points from completing a new cup base on a long bottoming base pattern.

One place to look for rising stocks is in the "STOCKS ON THE MOVE" article in Investor's Business Daily's weekly newspaper (or daily on www.investors.com). Plus, review the daily Sector Leaders list which has included ESNT and WAL consistently for the last month.

My comments below are not meant to point to the "best" stocks out there. But I took the opportunity to follow three good stocks from the Stocks on the Move column.

You can use the RS (relative strength) line to show you how an individual stock reacted to the day's news.

- Dave and Busters, PLAY, continues to hold 12% above its breakout with NO distribution days since the breakout.
- Foot Locker, FL, Friday gave FL its third distribution day out of 5 trading days – a concentration of distribution – enough to be a sell signal for me

Good luck!

Remember:

The market continues in the direction it's going until it doesn't.

MARKET DIAGNOSIS: "UPTREND"

What to do now:

1. Do a quick review of each stock you own every night. Look for strength and weakness signals in the price-volume action, especially watching for distribution (signs of institutional selling)

2. Sell any stock that is showing a concentration of distribution days

3. If you need cash for a hot new breakout, consider selling a stock that was a strong buy but hasn't taken off. It might be languishing near the buy point or it might have already round tripped – risen from a good buy point and bombed back or below the buy price.

EXPLANATION OF TERMS FOR THE ## MARKET ACTION OVER THE LAST 20 DAYS

Four weeks of price and volume action reveal much about the direction of the market and the strength of that movement.

|---|---------------|-------|---|--------|------|
| Healthy UptrendPrice-VolumeMovement    | Strong Action | Up    | ↑ | ↑      | Up   |
|   | Weaker Action | Down  | ↓ | ↓      | Down |
| Healthy DowntrendPrice-Volume-Movement | Strong Action | Down  | ↓ | ↑      | Up   |
|   | Weaker Action | Up    | ↑ | ↓      | Down |

The chart below identifies the market direction indicated by the Nasdaq's price and volume action for the last 20 days at two levels of significance.

ACCUMULATION/DISTRIBUTION COLUMN - TELLS YOU WHERE THE BIG MONEY IS GOING

The listing includes: the date, Nasdaq closing price and percent change of the Nasdaq price and volume.

- The next column identifies days that were Major Accumulation (serious UPTREND indicator) or Major Distribution (serious Downtrend indicator) using the 1% minimum rise or fall with higher volume.
- Minor accumulation and minor distribution days are also identified – days that moved 0.2% or more but less than 1%.

"CONSISTENT WITH" – THE SUBTLE, BUT TELLING MOVES

The last column is a UPTREND /Downtrend indicator.

Think of a healthy Uptrend. It will have many days where the index rises with increased volume. But even in the most robust Uptrend, * not every day will be up. In any Uptrend, there will be some down days. If they have higher volume, then the day becomes a distribution day but if the volume is lighter (as frequently happens in an Uptrend), then the down day is NOT a distribution day. In fact, a drop on lighter 4747.62volume says they market is NOT selling off heavily – good news and consistent with the Uptrend.

Using the Healthy UPTREND/Downtrend price and volume movement listed above.

- For example, if the Nasdaq closing price rose 0.7% and the volume rose 2% (up and up), that movement is "consistent with" the price-volume action of a Healthy UPTREND.
- If the price drops 0.5% and the volume rises 1.2% (down and up), that movement is "consistent with" the price-volume action of a Healthy Downtrend as indicated in the table above.
- Any index change less than + or – 0.3% or volume change less than + or – 1% has no "consistent with" notation. Price and volume movements that small is not strong enough to tell us about the market movement.

A Major Accumulation Day: Price RISES 1.0% or more and higher Volume than the day before
A Minor accumulation Day: Price RISES 0.2% or more and Volume is strong (either higher volume or is well-above average volume)

A Major Distribution Day: Price FALLS 1.0% or more and higher Volume than the day before.
A Minor distribution Day: Price FALLS 0.2% or more, Volume is strong (either higher volume or is well-above average volume)

A Stalling minor distribution Day: Only in an up-trending index or stock, price is FLAT or DOWN slightly compared to the day before, closing in the bottom half of the day's range and volume is heavier or about equal to the day before or strong compared to the past market. It's the price closing low in the day's range after an uptrend that is the key for this designation. Price close to flat and higher or consistent volume indicates the big money (institutions: mutual funds, banks, etc.) are gently selling, trying to sneak out so you won't notice.

** The "CURRENT TREND" column calculates how far each index has moved in the current trend assuming you purchased the index (which is not buyable) at the opening price on the day after the trend change signal.

- When this column is GREEN, the index has moved in the direction of the market trend.
- HOWEVER, when this column is RED, the index change has fallen into negative territory (which could be a rise during a Downtrend)

An ACCUMULATION day points at heavy buying by institutional money managers - the mutual funds, pension funds, banks, etc.
A DISTRIBUTION day points at heavy selling by institutional money managers.
