

ARMCHAIR INVESTOR<sup>(sm)</sup> MORNING MARKET NEWSLETTER

A TREND-FOLLOWING STRATEGY

The State Fair of Texas was great fun! It runs through October 20th.

CURRENT MARKET DIRECTION: UPTREND under PRESSURE

Current Armchair Investor action:

Hold QQQ

The market indexes (Nasdaq and S&P500) rebounded off their 50-day moving average lines on Thursday BUT the volume dried up. Usually, lower volume shows a lack of support for the price move (whether you are looking at the chart of a general market indexes or an individual stock). But there is another reason for light volume – an upcoming event/announcement. And here is it: Jerome Powell, the Federal Reserve Bank's chairman, will make an announcement Friday at 2 p.m. EST.

Wednesday added another distribution day – 5 of the last 10 market days showed heavy institutional selling. Is a Downtrend around the corner?

- My QQQ stop sell order was triggered Wednesday and the position was sold at a profit. See TREND-FOLLOWING table on page 2. Now I wait on the sidelines until another clear market direction signal is shown. Don't try to "catch a falling knife." That can get bloody. I would rather wait it out on the sidelines and look for a way to short if the downtrend accelerates.

Current Signs of Market Strength:

- The Nasdaq and S&P500 are still above their 200-day moving average lines.

Current Signs of Market Weakness:

- The Nasdaq had 5 distribution days (days of broad market selling) in the last 8 days with NO accumulation days, holding below its 50-day moving average
  - Look for a CONCENTRATION OF DISTRIBUTION DAYS (with other signs of weakness) to TURN AN UPTREND INTO A DOWNTREND!
  - FYI: "Correction" is just a softer word for Downtrend! Down is down!
  - See the MARKET ACTION OVER THE LAST 20 DAYS TABLE on page 5.

MY PLAN FOR FRIDAY: I wait for the Fed Chair's 2 p.m. (EST) announcement to see the market's reaction. My market-following account WAITS IN CASH. Several of my stock positions were sold by stops or weak price/volume action.

- I am watching for strong breakouts when the market returns to Uptrend.
- I will sell any stocks in my portfolio that have too many distribution days (signs of institutional selling). But a few are holding up well, even rising!

And finally, a friendly reminder: Cash is a position – Sleep well!

SEE "DAILY MARKET ACTION" TABLE ON FOLLOWING PAGE.

DAILY MARKET ACTION
10/3/19	Index Close	Index % Change	Volume % Change	Volume vs 50-day Avg.	Accumulation or Distribution Day?	Recent Trend Gain/Loss from 8/13 UPTREND SIGNAL
Nasdaq	78,227.27	+1.1%	-21.7%	+1.7%	Neither	+90.0%

PROGRESS IN ACCUMULATION/DISTRIBUTION RATINGS

The market's growing weakness shows as money flows out of the market:
the percent of A and B stocks dropped from 54% to 42% in just 2 weeks.

		A	B	C	D	E	As + Bs
4 weeks ago	9/4	7%	30%	21%	27%	15%	37%
3 weeks ago	9/11	8%	40%	24%	19%	8%	48%
2 weeks ago	9/18	11%	43%	22%	17%	6%	54%
1 week ago	9/25	9%	39%	24%	20%	7%	48%
Today	10/2	6%	36%	25%	23%	10%	42%
	#	402	2334	1610	1500	628

Stocks with an A or B rating are under accumulation (being bought.)
Stocks with a D or E rating are under distribution (being sold).

LAST WEEK'S MARKET ACTION

9/27/19	Weekly Index % Change	Weekly Volume % Change	Volume Above/ Below 10-week Avg	Type of Week

THE ARMCHAIR INVESTOR PLAN:

It's as easy as 1- 2- 3!

>>>>> On Tuesday 9/24, the market moved back to STEP 2: UPTREND UNDER PRESSURE

In Step 2: Hold the QQQ and watch the market very carefully for further signs of distribution and a 50-50 chance of the market going into Downtrend!

STEP 1: In an Uptrend, hold the QQQ, a Nasdaq100 ETF.

Find the market direction diagnosis every night in this newsletter. At the Uptrend signal, buy the QQQ the next morning if you don't have that position, yet. The QQQ follows the ups and downs of the Nasdaq100, allowing you to grab the rises of this Uptrend. With some additional positive action, you may decide to switch to the double QQQ ETF (QLD) or triple QQQ (TQQQ). I do not recommend these moves for the first time investor.

Just in case protection: When you receive your confirmation of the purchase price, place an 8% STOP LOSS order to protect your portfolio from a sudden market reversal (executing this sale is rare – I almost always sell when the market goes into “under pressure” or Downtrend – see Step 2 below). Your broker can help you set up this order.

This upward ride is the most exciting part of trend-following – Ride the escalator up, up, up as the market rises. Exit when the market moves into Downtrend.

Although not every Uptrend signal generates a positive return, most do.

History shows you will earn the highest returns if you act fast to buy the QQQ when the market signals a clear Uptrend (as happened on Thursday 9/5) Enjoy your ETF investment as it increases with the rise of the market.

STEP 2: When the Uptrend slows down: “Uptrend under Pressure”

“Uptrend under Pressure” means the

- The market is showing enough distribution– down days on higher volume – for investors to be concerned and cautious. Be sure to check on your investments each night! Many investors do not buy new stock position during this period due to higher failure rates.
- From “Uptrend under Pressure” the market diagnosis could:
  - Rise, showing strength, and return to a healthy Uptrend – STEP 1, or
  - Could have more distribution days and fall into a Downtrend (correction)

STEP 3: When the market diagnosis changes to Downtrend.
Selling your Uptrend ETF position (QQQ, QLD or TQQQ) will capture gains earned in Steps 1 & 2 above.

After exiting the Uptrend ETF, wait in cash until the next Uptrend signal. More recent Downtrends have been short term and not tradable.

If the Downtrend is strong, this box will identify a signal to invest in an inverse ETF which makes you profits as the market falls!

NOTE: Not every market direction signal ends with a positive return. But overall, the ETFs have outperformed the market when traded according to these guidelines. Plus the market direction signals will help you by indicating when it is most effective to consider adding individual stocks to your portfolio (with a strong uptrending market).

Example of the DAILY MARKET ACTION table with full explanation of terms and signals:

THE DAILY MARKET ACTION
9/27/19	Index Close	Index % Change	Volume % Change	Volume vs 50-day Avg.	Accumulation or Distribution Day?	Recent Trend Gain/Loss from 8/13 UPTREND SIGNAL
Nasdaq	7,939.63	-1.1%	+8.5%	-11.0%	Major Distribution	+1.7%
S&P500	2,961.79	-0.5%	NYSE Volume		minor distribution	+3.4%
DJIA	26,820.25	-0.3%	+5.1%	-12.0%	minor distribution	+3.8%

A Major Accumulation Day: Price RISES 1.0% or more with higher Volume than the day before.
A minor accumulation Day: Price RISES 0.2% and less than 1% with strong Volume (either higher than the day before or is well-above average volume).
A Major Distribution Day: Price FALLS 1.0% or more with higher Volume than the day before.
A minor distribution Day: Price FALLS 0.2% and less than 1% with strong Volume (either higher than the day before or is well-above average volume).
If the day's price/volume action does not meet the accumulation or distribution definitions above, it is a neither day.

** The Recent Trend Gains/Losses column calculates how far each index has moved from the recent trend change assuming you purchased the index (in an Uptrend) or sold the index (in a Downtrend) at the opening price on the day after the signal. Although not every year outperforms the common "buy and hold" strategy, using these signals has significantly OUTPERFORMED the buy-and-hold strategy in total since 1/1/2000.

Why are my Final Volumes Sometimes Different than Yours? Why do the volume numbers on this table not always match other web sites? The 4:00 close of the market immediately shows an accurate final price. But the volume figures continue to trickle in for hours. At some time, the accumulation of volume numbers has to be cut off and different sites use different cut-offs. Also, some sources include the volume of stocks listed on one exchange but traded on another (e.g. Apple stock listed on Nasdaq but also traded on other exchanges.) And some sources do not. The most important rule is to consistently use only one source for volume.

DO YOU INVEST IN INDIVIDUAL STOCKS?—

Always consider taking some profit if significant distribution is showing up for your individual stocks. However, many individual stocks are rising with gusto! Look at all the lists in the Investor's Business Daily newspaper for stocks breaking out with high volume. They are there!

To get a deeper sense of the health of the market, look at the MARKET FACTORS, COUNTS & RATINGS table included each day in the FULL Armchair Investor newsletter. It looks at 7 key market direction factors and highlights the leaning of each:

- If the factor leans toward the Uptrend, that box will be green
- If the factor leans toward the Downtrend, that box will be orange or red

One of the reasons I pay so much attention to the Investor's Business Daily strategies and books (How to Make Money in Stocks series) is that they work consistently. If you or someone you know is interested in stock market investing, I encourage them to start with:

- How to Make Money in Stocks – Getting started by Matt Galgani. Then they can move on to some of the more advanced books.
