THE MARKET’S MESSAGE: Remember: No market rises every day.

I’m sure you know we are in an extraordinary Uptrend. And it cannot go on forever..... But I point out an important lesson I have learned NOT to fight:

The market continues in the direction it is going, until it doesn’t!

You may have seen disturbing news on your TV or the internet, or read some compelling “drama” news that has you scared or has your greed gland gong.... But there is only one thing you should watch to determine the market strength and that’s --- the market! But did you hear about this week’s message of “indecision?” Let’s look at the Market’s Message:

>>>73% of all stocks over $5 have “A” or “B” accumulation ratings meaning that they are being heavily bought (That is an amazing %)

>>>The Nasdaq is up 87% and the S&P500 is up 67% since the March Corona low. Look at a weekly chart and you might see the real story:

What about last week’s drop? Look closely on a weekly chart (find a “high-low-open-close” candlestick chart covering the last 2 weeks of the S&P500 (Nasdaq looks the same)

Look closely at the red price “box” that defines this week’s open and close (the lines sticking above and below the box represent the high and low of the week – ignore them for this exercise).

Now compare this week’s box with last week’s white price box. Next note this week’s lower volume. Put those two messages together: This week was a week of “hesitation” and maybe uncertainty. But it was not a week of selling. Some would call it a week of consolidation, other a week of rest.

This is the best kind of “pause” the market can have: a minor drop, not much of a swing and no higher volume.

What should you do? Wait and watch.

MY PLAN FOR MONDAY: >>> I HOLD the QQQ.

NOTE: I really want to use this part of the newsletter to focus on using the QQQ for the market direction. So I am not going to talk about other options such as the DJIA or TQQQ. As you get better in timing the market, you may want to spice things up with other holdings.

Most Armchair Investor readers do hold individual stocks, too.

Be sure to check on the MARKET FACTORS, COUNTS AND RATINGS table on page 4 with its NEW expanded market direction commentary based on those indicators in the table – updated daily.

WHAT HAPPENED LAST WEEK? (Updated on Friday's newsletters and shown on page 3 of the newsletter on Monday. If you missed it on Monday, this page is always shown near the end of the newsletter)

After the Thanksgiving 4-day week, the market returned with enthusiasm.

>>>>> After last week's shortened Thanksgiving week, the Market took off!

All three major indexes took off, indicating investors were looking for the next wave of stocks that might have been ignored – many of from the S&P500 and DJIA.

| LAST WEEK'S MARKET ACTION (day by day) | | | |
|--|-----------------------|------------------------|---------------------------------|
| 12/11/20 | Weekly Index % Change | Weekly Volume % Change | Volume Above/ Below 10-week Avg |

| S&P 500 | -1.0% | NYSE 500 Volume | |
| DJIA | -0.6% | -11.0% | +4.0% |

The major indexes fell last week, but not as much as they rose the week before. The two-week net is still positive.

MARKET FACTORS, COUNTS & RATINGS

12/11/2020

The market is showing significant upside strength . 7 up days versus 1 down day in the last 10 days; all the indexes are above their 50-day and 200-day moving average lines! See more positive moves on the "Current Signs of Market Strength" on page 6. Is there an underlying "lack of Uptrend support" shown by the lack of increased volume on recent rising days?

| | | |
|---|--------------------------|--------------------------|
| Type of Day for Nasdaq Index Accumulation, Distribution or Neither | Neither | |
| I track the Nasdaq's price-volume because it usually leads the market direction. | | |
| Market Direction Uptrend, Under Pressure, Downtrend | Uptrend | |
| Nasdaq Accumulation & Distribution Days (last 20 days) Only accumulation and distribution days since the last market direction change are in this count. | Accumulation Days | Distribution Days |
| | 5 | 4 |
| Count of Up Days and Down Days Nasdaq's last 10-days' price movement | Up Days | Down Days |
| | 6 | 2 |
| Only days that move at least + or - 0.2% are included in the Up/Down count which does not always, therefore, add up to 10 days. | | |
| Rising/Falling Ratio of Leader Stocks with High Volume Nasdaq 10-day ratio | 1.5 | |
| This indicator looks at the HEALTH of leading stocks (high RS rating) with strong financials (high EPS rating). Uptrend indicator: 1.5 or higher. Neutral: 1.0 to 1.49. Downtrend: less than 1.0 | | |
| Market Accumulation/Distribution Ratings "A": heavy accumulation, "B": moderate accumulation, "C": neutral, "D": moderate distribution, "E": heavy distribution. Accumulation = Institutions are BUYING, Distribution = Inst are SELLING | Nasdaq | C- |
| | S&P 500 | B |
| | DJIA | B |
| The Nasdaq as a whole, continues to lag the other indexes. But remember, just 8 days ago, it had an "E" distribution rating. I focus on the growth to D+. | | |
| Are Major Indexes Above or Below Moving Averages? "At" is within 1% above or below the moving average. | 50-Day | 200-Day |

* A Stalling distribution day is a day when a stock or index rises to a new high, then falls back to close near the prior day's close with high volume.

The Green dates are "ALL-TIME NEW HIGHS."

The Nasdaq volume on Tuesday 12/1 was 17% below Monday's volume. But it was also an amazing 60% above average volume. Only one other falling day had higher volume this whole year. Thus, that high level of selling with a rise in the index is a Major Accumulation day.

* NOTE: The color of the "Current Trend Day Count" column indicates the market direction: Green = Uptrend, Yellow = Uptrend under Pressure, Red = Downtrend (correction).

JOIN US FOR THE DECEMBER Investor's Business Daily MEETUP on Wednesday, 12/16 - ONLINE

Every month, since 2006, I have had the honor of arranging the INVESTOR'S BUSINESS DAILY Meetup in Dallas and then in Fort Worth.

Thanks to those who support us, showing up early to set up the rooms, greet guests and necessary food tasters at our Christmas party.

I especially thank:

- Ron Shaw for tirelessly greeting guests (one of the most organized, happy guys I know) and handing out the printed copies of the class notes.
- Fred Richards for his amazing market insights and presentations to the group.
- Nick Pollard who saved me so much time arranging for some of our best meeting locations. (In case you have not heard the sad news, Nick suddenly passed away in July - not Covid related.)
- And all the others who greeted first time guests, substituted for Ron or stepped in at the last minute to find extension cords, extra tables and chairs, etc. etc. etc.
- It takes a village!

A REQUEST FOR HOLIDAY CONTRIBUTIONS.

We now meet online at no charge but I hope you will help me continue making an annual holiday contribution. This year I am asking you to make one more contribution to either of two extraordinary service organizations. Your choice:

- The North Texas Food Bank – A $25 contribution helps provide 150 meals. NTFB has many generous folks provided matching finds including Sammons Enterprises and the Beaumont Foundation of America.
- The Salvation Army which provides an unending list of services from meals, housing, clothing, job readiness, drug rehabilitation and counseling.

The next IBD Meetup is this Wednesday, 12/16 6:30-8:30

Current Signs of Market Strength (as of Friday 12/11/2020)

- The Nasdaq and S&P500 hit new all-time highs in the last week, then dropped to find support at their 10-day moving average on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.
 - Finding support at their 10-day lines is a stronger statement than dropping to their 50-day lines!
 - >>> This is NOT a wild swinging market! Perhaps many of the newbie investors are using dollar-cost-averaging! That would support a rising market as their money gently and consistently enters the market.
- The Nasdaq and S&P500 closed at new highs Monday, Tuesday and Thursday.
- The Leaders Up versus Down ratio has risen to a strong 1.5.
- A whopping 73% of all stocks have an “A” or “B” rating. That shows some serious buying in this market. Beware: Serious buying can cause market rises!

BOTTOM LINE: The buyers are in control; this market is flying higher.

- Nasdaq closed above 12,000 for the last 6 days as it hit that all-time high on Monday
- The S&P500, DJIA and NYSE hit new all-time highs on Friday.
- The usually lagging NYSE popped above its February high to a new, all-time high on last week (Tuesday) and has stayed above 14,000 since!
- All the major indexes are now ABOVE their 50-day and 200-day m.a. lines

Current Signs of Market Weakness

- The Nasdaq's RS (relative strength) line has been flat for almost 5 months indicating the Nasdaq is still strong but no longer outperforming the S&P500.
- With Trump's holding out on calling the election results, the governmental transition may be very difficult causing confusion and possible international weakness. The market hates uncertainty.

THE NASDAQ UPWARD AND DOWNWARD CHANNELS

One of the features I like about Investors.com's MarketSmith charts is that I can draw in my own channel lines.

Below is the Nasdaq chart for the last 12 months. It shows:

- the January+ Uptrend that continued in the beginning of the year,
- The pink downtrend as the market crashed in February-March
- The amazing 5-month rise (Uptrend) of the market since March low.

Did you know annotations stay on the MarketSmith charts! Bravo to the designers. My notations will stay on the MarketSmith charts for years! I can go back and visit how I saw the market in 2000, 2008, 2015-16, etc.

That is one of MarketSmith's many truly unique and valuable features! I don't have to figure out what happened in those past periods again

My annotations are there! Updated, Tuesday 10/19/2020. Vertical red lines identify distribution days (down days with higher volume indicating serious selling.)

>>>> I HIGHLY RECOMMEND IBD's MarketSmith for your investing CHARTS! Note the excellent annotations and markups I have added on the chart below.

Go to MarketSmith.com to try it out. All my distribution day notations (pink vertical lines) will be visible for years! I recently went back to the 2000 high. Yes – annotations were there! The vertical red lines indicate “distribution days” of serious selling.

My favorite charting system is MARKETSMITH, available on INVESTORS.COM.

COMPARISON of NASDAQ, S&P500, DJIA & NYSE 1- YEAR Returns

(usually updated weekly on Fridays- but this week chart was updated on Wednesday, too.)

The chart below shows the one-year returns of the Nasdaq, the S&P500, DJIA and NYSE. Where should you go shopping? The answer for me? Nasdaq! And, yes! I will buy a top stock wherever I find it! These results are why I focus on the Nasdaq and QQQ for my trend-following strategy:

REMEMBER: BUY & HOLD IS NOT A STRONG INVESTING STRATEGY.

Imagine the difference in returns in the chart above if you had just sold your market ETF waited in cash as the market falls and get back in as it starts back up!

- It isn't necessary to get in at the bottom or out at the top!
- Just stepping out of the market somewhere near the top and getting back in near the bottom has had a HUGE IMPACT on my portfolio.

It can take YEARS to complete a market Downtrend (correction) then recover back to where you were.

An EXAMPLE OF HOW “BUY-AND-HOLD” COSTS YOU BIG BUCKS.

- Over the last year, a “buy and hold” strategy has earned 8% for the S&P500. “Buy and hold” worked better for the Nasdaq earning 44.1%. But wait....
- If you invested with the Armchair Investor strategy, you are UP 50.6% for 2020. Anyone want the extra 6% (and sometimes the Armchair strategy doubles the buy & hold returns!
- Where do you want your money invested? Here's where many answer: “The Armchair Investor strategy!”

One last note: IF you invest in individual stocks, the best can be found on both major indexes (the Nasdaq and S&P500). Be sure to find the stocks with best ratings, base action and breakouts.

MARKET/CHART READING LESSON:

The MarketSmith Relative Strength Line – My favorite!

Go to any chart on the Investors.com web page. You will see the bumpy line labeled RS for Relative Strength. This line moves up or down with each price bar showing if this stock or index rose more or less than the S&P500.

Look at the Nasdaq daily chart (0NDQC) and notice that the RS line has risen since the Oct 2019 low, indicating it has earned higher returns.

Go to the monthly chart and note that the Nasdaq has consistently outperformed the S&P500. (not ever month but most). The S&P500 does have some great stocks. That rising RS line tells us that, over time, the Nasdaq as a whole has done better than the S&P500. But just like shopping for groceries, I will buy from the market that has the best fruit, on any given day.

The Nasdaq continues to outperform the S&P500. Watch the RS line on Investors.com charts. This important line shows you how a stock or index is performing compared to the S&P500. A rising line indicates that stock or index has risen faster than the S&P500 (measured in percentage change.)

Note: Do not confuse IBD's RS line with the RSI line some charting system use. The RS measures how a stock is moving compared to the S&P500. Rising faster gives a higher rating. Investopedia.com states: The relative strength index (RSI) is a momentum indicator that measures the magnitude of recent price changes to evaluate "overbought" or "oversold" conditions in the price of a stock or other asset.

The problem I have found with the RSI line is that some of the best, rising stocks can push an RSI line to the top of the rating (indicating overbought) just when I have a buy signal. As always, I tell you to use the indicators you find useful (profitable).

I am excited about the settling down in market volume. But I continue to be concerned about the sustained day-to-day price volatility. It is surely affected by the uncertainty of the upcoming earnings announcements. BE SURE YOUR STOPS ARE IN PLACE.

Every Day's Lesson: Whether you agree with your stock's daily results or not...

- YOUR JOB is to monitor its daily results and adjust your action accordingly.
 - Monday: Monitor.....and.....adjust.
 - Tuesday: Monitor.....and.....adjust.
 - Wednesday: Monitor.....and.....adjust.
 - Thursday: Monitor.....and.....adjust.
 - Friday: Monitor.....and.....adjust.
 - (repeat)

KEY MARKET CONCEPTS USED IN THIS NEWSLETTER

If the horse you are riding, dies. GET OFF!

When the market (or your stock) dies – whether that is in a year, a month or tomorrow, the Armchair Investor Strategy will NOT “stay the course” and we won’t ride a falling market down. Instead, we will use our 20 years of market direction experience to identify optimum times to be in the market and times to be out of the market. (not guaranties!) (PS I love horses. They are amazing companions.)

Using my day-to-day price-volume analysis, my students and I have consistently been able to make money by:

“Getting IN near the bottom” and “Getting OUT near the top.”

The Armchair Investor strategy has allowed me to earn well-above-average returns since the 2000 top! See page 2 for this year’s exciting wins!

Prepare yourself for a NEW ECONOMY!

I expect a major shift in how we do business: more online appointments, more working from home, reduced business travel (with reduced costs to businesses) We might actually see this lockdown period as a slingshot into the a new, sleeker way of conducting business. And each of those new trends will help some business (online meetings, internet providers, online schools, casual clothing, healthy ready-to-eat food....)

>>>>>>>>> I would like to hear your ideas of where the big gains will occur!

Which industry groups and specific companies will thrive and which will dive in the after pandemic new economy???

WILL HISTORY REPEAT ITSELF? In the financial crisis of 2007, it took the market 2 1/2 years to recover the 56% drop. Worse yet was the reaction to the dot.com 90's market over-inflation that crashed in March of 2000 and took 19 years for the market to "break even."

WHAT CAN WE (INDIVIDUAL INVESTORS) DO NOW? ONE lesson I have learned from every greatest investor I have studied:

HUMAN NATURE DOESN'T CHANGE.

That is why the cups and handles, double bottoms, etc. continue to work. HUMAN NATURE DOESN'T CHANGE. Human's nature is to survive and we are, therefore, fear and greed driven. And that is what cups and handles, double bottoms, etc. are all about.

Stick with the Armchair Investor non-emotional, fact-based analysis to ride the market as it rises and exit as it falls. I have never been ashamed of exiting a failing market or stock..... or of riding a winner up, no matter what "they" say.

A SIMILAR TIME IN HISTORY I've been looking for past examples and see a close one in 1998: a 33% drop during the "dotcom" rally in 1998, Everyone was sure 1998 was the top and got out. When it turned around, they all jumped in again.

When the 2000 crash occurred, their brokers told them to stay in because, "...It always comes back! Just look at 1998. When this market fails, I will just say, "GET OUT."

Reminder: I do not make recommendations - just ideas to consider.

BONUS CHART-READING HISTORY LESSONS:

Look at a Nasdaq or S&P500 daily chart as it crashed off the February 2020 all-time highs. (Charts are at the end of this newsletter.)

Notice the DOWN-TRENDING pattern of:

- frequent higher volume DOWN days (serious selling) and
- frequent lower volume UP days (lack of commitment to the upward move).

NOW NOTICE A SHIFT IN the PRICE-VOLUME PATTERN AS THE MARKET SLOWED DOWN AND THEN STARTED RISING:

- More consecutive rising days with higher volume (Nasdaq)
- A fresh upward move of 4 rising days in a row (Nasdaq)
- Those moves in the last week bring hope that this Uptrend is gathering steam AND it brings a concern that irrational exuberance may be driving this Uptrend.
- EITHER WAY – I am happy to ride this Uptrend until it dies... next week, next month or next year. STAY TUNED!

This “change in personality” is common when a Downtrend becomes an Uptrend.

DISTRIBUTION DAYS: >>> Scan across the volume over the last four weeks on a daily chart below. You will see almost all the tall volume bars (sticking up above their neighbors) are ... RED, showing higher volume on down days. T

HOW TO SEE DISTRIBUTION ON 2-COLOR CHARTS!

Distribution action is easiest to see when you are on a chart with two color volume lines, usually red for falling price days and green (or blue) for rising days. The fastest way to get a sense of the accumulation/distribution going on in a stock or index is to swing your eyes across the volume bars – noting the color of the highest bars - the red volume bar indicates the price dropped that day. The taller bar indicates the volume was higher. (MarketSmith and other IBD charts have this 2-color feature!

REMEMBER:

THE MARKET CONTINUES IN THE DIRECTION IT IS GOING,
....UNTIL IT DOESN'T !

With the Coronavirus spreading, it could be a... long,... cold... year!

>>>>But be sure to watch each stock in your portfolio for additional distribution days to signal an exit point. See selling rules chapter of “How to Make Money in Stocks” by William O’Neil, founder of Investor’s Business Daily.

THE ARMCHAIR INVESTOR TREND-FOLLOWING STRATEGY

A Simple and Powerful Tool to Increase Your Returns

Armchair Investor Mantra:

- Be IN the market when it is going up
- Be OUT of the market when it is going down
- Protect your portfolio with 8% stops.

The primary purpose of this Armchair Investor newsletter is to let you, the reader, earn bigger returns riding the trend of the market.

By following the best (most reliable) market change signals, you can:

- Get in the market near the bottom of a new bull market
- Exit the market near the top, and
 - Capture more of the gains,
 - Avoid more of the losses and, thus
 - Earn higher returns than the “buy-and-hold” strategy recommended by many brokers and money managers!

Why a “Buy-and-Hold” strategy doesn’t work well:

When the market has topped and starts to fall, do you really want to let your profits fade away as the market falls – sometimes for years? Of course not! Selling your uptrend position allows you to capture your gains and store them safely away in cash. What is the right time to exit? This newsletter will show you the market’s signal.

Most downtrends (also called corrections) fall faster than the uptrends rise.

I am not willing to sit in a sick, falling market and lose my hard earned gains!

Cash is a safer position!

Here are the three signals I will give you in this newsletter for the three market conditions:

- Uptrends: When the market rises into an Uptrend, buy and hold the QQQ, a stock that rises with the general market.
- Uptrend showing Weakness: As a market Uptrend starts to fall, you will receive the signal to exit the QQQ and safely wait in cash.
- Downtrends: If the market continues down, you will receive a signal to buy the PSQ, a stock that rises while the market falls.

FINALLY – For individual stocks: Use these market signals to help you when buying individual stocks. You increase your likelihood of a successful stock purchase if you only buy stocks when the market is in an Uptrend. Lesson: Don’t fight the market trend!

HOW CAN YOU CAPTURE THOSE GREAT MARKET GAINS SHOWN ABOVE?
USE THE ARMCHAIR INVESTOR PLAN:
*It's as easy as 1- 2- 3!

STEP 1: Ride a rising market - hold the QQQ .

STEP 2: Protect your investments during a weakening Uptrend

STEP 3: Go to cash or PSQ in a falling market.

This newsletter will identify the market direction, (step 1, step 2 or step 3) and explain what you can do to grow and protect your portfolio.

STEP 1: In an Uptrend, hold the QQQ, a Nasdaq100 ETF

Find the market direction diagnosis every night in this newsletter.

- In the Uptrend, buy the QQQ the next morning if you don't yet have that position. This newsletter will alert you to the Uptrend signal! The QQQ follows the ups and downs of the Nasdaq100, allowing you to grab the rises of an Uptrend.
- With some additional positive action, you may decide to switch to the double QQQ ETF (QLD) or triple QQQ (TQQQ). I do not recommend these moves for the first time investor.

Just in case protection: When you receive your confirmation of the purchase, place an 8% STOP LOSS order to protect your portfolio from a sudden market reversal (executing this sale is rare – I almost always sell when the market goes into “under pressure” or Downtrend – see Step 2 below). Your broker can help you set up this order.

This upward ride is the most exciting part of trend-following – Ride the escalator up, up, up as the market rises. Exit when the market starts to show significant weakness (read this newsletter nightly!

Although not every Uptrend signal generates a positive return, most do.

STEP 2: When the Uptrend slows down: “Uptrend under Pressure”

“Uptrend under Pressure” is a Warning Message and means:

- The market is showing significant distribution (selling pressure.)
Investors should:
 - Be concerned about the strength of this Uptrend.
During an Uptrend under Pressure, this newsletter may move into CASH position to avoid possible losses.
 - Check on the health of your investments each night! Many investors do not buy new stock positions during this period due to higher failure rates.
- From STEP 2, “Uptrend under Pressure,” the market diagnosis will go one of two ways:
 - Rise with price and volume strength, and return to Uptrend – (STEP 1), or
 - Continue to add more distribution days and fall into a Downtrend (correction)
- This is a time to pay attention to the market behavior.

STEP 3: When the market diagnosis goes to “Downtrend”

Capture much of the gains from the Uptrend by selling your Uptrend ETF position (QQQ, QLD or TQQQ) when the market diagnosis goes into Downtrend to capture much of the gains earned in Steps 1 & 2 above.

After exiting the Uptrend ETF, wait in cash until the next Uptrend signal. More recent Downtrends have been short term and not tradable.

The Uptrend has been years long and strong. The market is due for a long dive. I will invest in the PSQ (inverse QQQ) ETF which makes profits as the market falls!

NOTE: Not every market direction signal ends with a positive return. But overall, this Market Tracking Strategy has outperformed the market when traded according to these signals.

BONUS: Plus the market direction signals will help you by indicating when it is most effective to consider adding individual stocks to your portfolio (with a strong uptrending market).

DO YOU INVEST IN INDIVIDUAL STOCKS?—

Always consider taking some profit if significant distribution is showing up for your individual stocks. However, many individual stocks are rising with gusto! Look at all the lists in the Investor's Business Daily newspaper for stocks breaking out with high volume. They are there!

To get a deeper sense of the health of the market, look at the MARKET FACTORS, COUNTS & RATINGS table included each day in the FULL Armchair Investor newsletter. It looks at 7 key market direction factors and highlights the leaning of each:

- If the factor leans toward the Uptrend, that box will be green
- If the factor leans toward the Downtrend, that box will be orange or red

After the Thanksgiving 4-day week, the market returned with enthusiasm.

>>>> After last week's shortened Thanksgiving week, the Market took off!

All three major indexes took off, indicating investors were looking for the next wave of stocks that might have been ignored – many of from the S&P500 and DJIA.

EXAMPLE of the DAILY MARKET ACTION table with explanation of terms and signals:

| THE DAILY MARKET ACTION | | | | | | |
|-------------------------|-------------|----------------|-----------------|-----------------------|-----------------------------------|---|
| 9/27/19 | Index Close | Index % Change | Volume % Change | Volume vs 50-day Avg. | Accumulation or Distribution Day? | Recent Trend Gain/Loss from 8/13/2019 UPTREND SIGNAL |
| Nasdaq | 7,939.63 | -1.1% | +8.5% | -11.0% | Major Distribution | +1.7% |
| S&P500 | 2,961.79 | -0.5% | NYSE Volume | | minor distribution | +3.4% |
| DJIA | 26,820.25 | -0.3% | +5.1% | -12.0% | minor distribution | +3.8% |

A Major Accumulation Day: Price RISES 1.0% or more with higher Volume than the day before.
A minor accumulation Day: Price RISES 0.2% and less than 1% with strong Volume (either higher than the day before or is well-above average volume).
A Major Distribution Day: Price FALLS 1.0% or more with higher Volume than the day before.
A minor distribution Day: Price FALLS 0.2% and less than 1% with strong Volume (either higher than the day before or is well-above average volume).
If the day's price/volume action does not meet the accumulation or distribution definitions above, it is a neither day.

 The Recent Trend Gains/Losses column calculates how far each index has moved from the recent trend change assuming you purchased the index (in an Uptrend) or sold the index (in a Downtrend) at the opening price on the day after the signal. Although not every year outperforms the common "buy and hold" strategy, using these signals has significantly OUTPERFORMED the buy-and-hold strategy in total since 1/1/2000.

Why are my Final Volumes Sometimes Different than Yours? Why do the volume numbers on this table not always match other web sites? The 4:00 close of the market immediately shows an accurate final price. But the volume figures continue to trickle in for hours. At some time, the accumulation of volume numbers has to be cut off and different sites use different cut-offs. Also, some sources include the volume of stocks listed on one exchange but traded on another (e.g. Apple stock listed on Nasdaq but also traded on other exchanges.) And some sources do not. The most important rule is to consistently use only one source for volume.
